
* * The Subscribers to this Institution are earnestly requested to recommend it to the beneficence of their friends who may not as yet have become contributors, by representing the importance of the Charity, the conveniences which it affords to Subscribers themselves, and the difficulty at the same time of meeting the expences which it unavoidably involves.

The following brief outline of the objects and the rules of the Institution may be given, for this purpose :—

1st. The Parent Society at home, which has existed for about a century and a quarter, supports Missions, or distributes, in a vast variety of languages, Bibles as well as Prayer-books and Tracts, or assists in the promotion of Education and Religious Instruction, in every part of the immense British Empire, and in many other countries besides.

2d. The funds raised in this Province, however, through the generosity of the Parent Society, are confined to our own local purposes.

3d. No regulation is imposed respecting the amount of contributions, except that to constitute any person a Member of the Parent Society, with the privilege of receiving the annual Report of their proceedings, it is necessary to pay a benefaction on admission of 23s. 4d., (which in this country it has been thought advisable to change to 25s.) and an annual subscription to the same amount.—All the subscriptions are payable in advance to the Treasurer of the Diocesan Committee at the Quebec Bank, or to the Secretary, or Assistant Secretary, and become due on the 3d of March in each year.

4th. Subscribers have the choice of restricting their contributions to the support of the National School, or leaving them to be applied to the general purposes of the Committee.

5th. Subscribers to a certain amount have the privilege of purchasing the books and tracts at the Repository at a reduced rate.

6th. Every Subscriber has the privilege of sending a poor child to the school, to which pay-scholars are also admissible.

7th. Connected with the Department of this Institution, which relates to Education, is the SCHOOL-CLOTHING FUND, an object peculiarly entitled in this climate, to the public benevolence. For the Treasurers for the boys' and girls' schools respectively, see the list of Subscribers, &c. annexed to this Report.

ANNUAL REPORT

SOCIETY

CHRISTIAN KNOWLEDGE,

FOR THE YEAR 1824—5.

ANNUAL REPORT.

IT is with more satisfaction, than on any former occasion, that the Quebec Diocesan Committee of the Society for promoting Christian knowledge beg to offer to their Members, and to the public, the Seventh Annual Report of their proceedings. Their exertions during the past year have been crowned with all the success, which could reasonably have been expected, and they look forward to the future with the cheering hope, that, by the divine blessing upon their labours, they may every year become more and more instrumental in extending the knowledge, and confirming the influence of the Religion of Christ.

Pursuing the same twofold classification of these labours, as in their last year's Report, the Committee commence with that branch of them, which is more immediately in unison with the designs of the Parent Society—the circulation of Books and Tracts from the Repository at Quebec.

A large order for a fresh supply of these was sent home, shortly after the last Report was submitted to the General Meeting, and they arrived in the Month of September last, (1824,) to the amount of £250 10s. 9d. sterling. A supply of slates and pencils was received at the same time, for the use of the National School. The sale of Books and Tracts at the Dépôt, since the last Report, amounts to £149 14s. 6d. Of these the Montreal District Committee have been furnished with a supply, amounting to £53 3s. 2d. and the statement of their distribution, in the Report of that Committee, which has just been published, is truly gratifying. Packets have also been forwarded to York, Kingston, Matilda, Adolphus Town, and the Carrying place (Township of Murray) in the Upper Province; and the Missionaries at Nicolet, Drummondville, St. Armand, Rawdon, St. Andrews, Hull and Ascott, in the Lower, have received supplies, either for distribution amongst their respective congregations, or for the use of Schools established under their auspices. Books and Tracts have been given likewise to several persons, who came up to Quebec last summer, (1824) from the Timiscouata Portage; and packets have been sent to the distant Settlements of Mitis and Cascapedia, in the District of Gaspé; throughout which they were largely distributed by the Archdeacon at the time of his visitation. The Honble. and Revd. Dr. STEWART, visiting Missionary in the Diocese, has also received a small supply ; and they have been circulated, as occasion required, in Quebec and its neighbourhood, by the Clergy of the Establishment, especially by the Revd. G. Archbold, in his ministerial visits to the Protestant settlers in the Townships of Leeds, Framp-ton, and Ireland, and the Seigniories of St. Giles, Aubert Gallion, St. Charles La Belle Alliance, and Fossambault. They have been partially distributed likewise in the Regimental Hospitals by the Chaplain to the Forces, who has also supplied them to the soldiers of the Garrison ;— who, the Committee rejoice to state, appear to manifest an increasing desire to become possessed of religious Books, especially of the Book of common Prayer, at the reduced prices of the Society. This sum has, in every instance, been cheerfully paid, and, in many, a larger sum— or even the full price—has been given.

The National School has, as usual, been furnished with Books gratuitously, at an expence to the Committee of £12 14 6; and the Schools of the Royal Artillery, 68th and 71st Regiments have been provided with such Books as they required, at the same rate as before. A School recently opened at Val Cartier, under the direction of the Royal Institution, has likewise received a small gratuitous supply ; as has also a Sunday School, (of which mention will be made hereafter,) established by the exertions of the Revd. J. Reid, which holds its meetings in Trinity Church, Frelighsburgh.

The increased demand for Books, however, and the increased exertions on the part of the Committee to meet this demand, will best appear from the following statement of the issues made from the Repository, during the past year.

Bibles, different sizes.....	143
Testaments, do.....	126
Prayer Books, do.....	295
Various Religious Books, bound, } half-bound and stitched..... }	1497
Small Tracts, sewed.....	3560

Total 5621

To these may be added several sets of the National Society's Cards and Arithmetical Tables, and a large quantity of the Tracts on singlesheets, which are circulated gratuitously by the Parent Society.

In reviewing this branch of their labours, the Committee cannot but feel the most lively satisfaction; a satisfaction, which derives additional strength from the reflection, that a far wider field of exertion is about to open upon them, and much more extensive means will soon be placed at their disposal, in consequence of a communication received last Summer, (1824,) from the Incorporated Society for the propagation of the Gospel in Foreign parts, conveying a request on the part of that Society, that the Diocesan Committee would supply their Missionaries with such Books, as they might be authorized by the board to apply for, the Society undertaking to pay the full price for the same. It is needless to add, that this request was acceded to by the Committee with the utmost alacrity, and the Missionaries at Dunham, Perth and Adolphus-town, having received the requisite authority from the Board, have sent orders to the Repository for Books, which will be immediately executed. The good effects of this arrangement have already been manifested in the Diocese of Nova Scotia, and the same beneficial results may be expected to flow from it here. The increased facility, which will thus be afforded for the circulation of religious Books throughout the Diocese, is a matter of sincere congratulation to the Committee, and affords the happiest omen of the success of their future exertions.

It may be proper, before the Committee proceed to the subject of Education, to say a few words on the correspondence with the Parent Society,—though this might fairly be classed perhaps under a separate head. The Revd. W. Parker writes, that the Report of the Diocesan Committee for the year 1821-2, had been received at the Office of the Society, and that it had met with “the cordial approbation” of the Committee for Correspondence. He further mentions, that Dr. Gaskin, the venerable Secretary of the Society, had relinquished his official connection with the Institution, after a service of seven and thirty years, and that himself and the Revd. W. H. Coleridge, M. A. had been unanimously elected joint Secretaries in his stead. The latter, having been subsequently consecrated to the See of Barbadoes, has been succeeded by the Revd. A. M. Campbell, M. A. ; and the Society’s Office has been removed from Bartlett’s Buildings to No. 67, Lincoln’s Inn Fields.

The Secretary of the Committee has also received a communication from Mr. Campbell, relative to the difference, referred to in a former Report, between the Society's claims and the expectation of the Committee. This expectation is said to have been founded in a misapprehension of the Society's regulations on the part of the Committee, who appear indeed to have taken an incorrect view of the subject. The business, however, is still involved in some little difficulty, and the final arrangement of it has been committed to the Archdeacon of Quebec.* But the Committee feel that they would indeed be deficient in gratitude, did they not express their warmest acknowledgments to the Parent Society for the kind and encouraging attention with which their representations have been received. The Committee for correspondence lost no time in bringing the subject under the consideration of the General Board, who unanimously resolved, that Members residing in the Colonies, should in future be exempted from paying their subscriptions to the Parent Society. An expectation was at the same time held out, with the Society's accustomed liberality, that the existing debt would be cancelled, as soon as the Book-Account of the Committee should have been liquidated. This account, previous to the receipt of the last supply of Books, amounted to more than £200 Sterling, of which £100 has been remitted since the last Report.

The Reports of the Parent Society for the year 1823, were received together with the Books and Tracts, and nothing can be more interesting than their contents. The concerns of the Society are prosperous and flourishing, and there are above 15,000 names upon the list of subscribers. The Committee learn also, from other sources of information, that not less than fifteen millions of Books and Tracts have been distributed by the Society, within the last fourteen years, and that by its assistance and co-operation,—for otherwise it would be impossible to effect it,—the National Society is enabled to educate upwards of 300,000 poor children in the principles of the Establishment.

*The readers of this Report will bear in mind, that though the printing of it has been so long delayed, it was drawn up and submitted to the Annual Meeting in the month of May, 1825.

“If there is nothing,” says the Report, at the conclusion, “in the transactions of the last year, which exceeds the bounds of reasonable expectation, there is yet much to gratify the sober christian, and to encourage his efforts in the dissemination of religious truth.” The Committee cannot forbear from quoting these words, as strikingly characteristic of the proceedings of a Society, which seeks less to dazzle by exhibition and display, than to pursue its career of usefulness in simple dignity, unostentatious and unobtrusive, and which, shrinking from the gaze of this world’s admiration, looks to a future state of being for its reward !

2. The Committee now proceed to enumerate their labours in the cause of Education on the National System.

The first object, which claims their attention, is the National School at Quebec ; and they commence with the promised detail of the expenditure on account of the School-house.

The Committee regret that the total cost of the building has so far exceeded their calculation; but many charges have occurred, in a work of this magnitude, which could not possibly have been foreseen, and it will be perceived, that an expence of more than £200 has been occasioned by the failure of the builder in the execution of his Contract, and the consequent litigation, in which they have been involved; the forbearance shewn by the Committee, instead of meeting with an adequate return of gratitude, having only served to provoke fresh hostilities. The Committee have, however, the satisfaction of stating, that the £150, which had been borrowed, has been paid off, and that the small sum of £84 7s. 10½*d.* is all that now remains due upon the building. To Mr. Tremain the Committee beg once more to express their obligations, for the trouble which he has taken in the business; they are fully sensible of the difficulties and vexations, which he has had to struggle with in every stage of the proceedings, and know how to appreciate the persevering efforts, by which they have been finally overcome.

The School Rooms were filled up last summer, (1824) at an expence of about £40, with every requisite accommodation for the children and teachers, under the direction of Lieuts. Philpotts and West, of the Royal Engineers; to whom also the Committee beg to return their best thanks, as well for their kindness in undertaking and executing this particular task, as for the general interest which they have manifested, on all occasions, in the welfare of the Institution.

But the attention of the Committee has been by no means limited to the School-House. The improvement of the Schools themselves has occupied much of their time and thoughts, and a Meeting of the Parishioners was held in the month of July last, (1824,) pursuant to public notice, for the purpose of framing regulations, preparatory to the introduction of an improved system of inspection and government.

At this Meeting a Committee of Management consisting of persons of both sexes, was appointed to meet in the respective School-rooms every Saturday forenoon, for the purpose of enforcing the existing regulations, and suggesting such alterations, as might be thought necessary or expedient ; a separate subscription was set on foot for the support of the Schools ; and visitors were nominated for the Boys' School, which had not hitherto enjoyed the benefit of a regular superintendence of this nature.

This personal superintendence on the part of visitors has been well denominated "the life and soul of the system" ; and it has been attended, in the present instance, with the most salutary effects. Without wishing at all to detract from the merits of Mr. MARS DEN and Miss NORRIS, the Teachers of the two Schools, who appear fully impressed with the importance of their charge, and to whose sedulous attention and well directed labours much is undoubtedly due, it is still impossible to deny that the close inspection, which has been exercised, has been scarcely less serviceable to them, than it has been beneficial to the children.

Both Schools may soon be considered as completely organised, both are full and flourishing in point of numbers, and both are conducted with the utmost good order, regularity and decorum. A marked improvement is also observable in the morals and deportment of the children, which cannot fail to be highly gratifying to the Committee; and which appears, in some instances, to have operated a beneficial change in the manners and disposition of the Parents. To the Gentlemen, visitors of the Boys' School, whose conscientious discharge of the duties of their appointment has contributed in no small degree to these important results, and to the Ladies, whose kind and benovolent attention has been devoted, from the first, to the improvement of the Girls' School, the Committee beg to offer, together with their congratulations, their sincere and heartfelt acknowledgments.

The public annual examination of the School took place in the Boys' School-Room, in the month of December last (1824); but no better account can be given of this, or of the subsequent Jubilee of the children on Christmas day, than in the words in which it has already been laid before the public—and which the Committee make no apology for introducing here.

“ On Thursday 23d instant, in preparation for the holidays, a public examination of the Boys' and Girls' Schools upon the National system in this city, was held at the new School-house, near St. John's Gate.—A number of respectable persons attended, and His Excellency the Lieut. Governor honoured the examination by his presence. The number of children present was, Boys 104, Girls 94. The business of the day was opened by prayers read by one of the children, and closed by a hymn sung by the whole School. The children went through their usual exercises in spelling, reading, repeating their arithmetical tables, and writing on the slate, with the addition, in the girls' room, of sewing; the copy and cyphering books of the higher classes were exhibited, and a few of Watts' hymns were recited in each School, as well as a metrical address prepared by the master for the occasion, and spoken by the children."

"Great satisfaction was expressed at the progress of the children, their orderly appearance, and the precision and promptitude of their evolutions in the mechanical part of their exercises. The prizes were distributed after the close of the Examination."

"On Christmas day, the two School-rooms exhibited a most interesting spectacle, and one entirely novel in this Province. A Christmas dinner, consisting, in the true English style, of beef and plum-pudding, was served up hot for the children, with the addition of those scholars who attend the Sunday School only; and there were seen in the boys' room, 120 happy little faces, and 113 in the girls', enjoying the bounty of their benefactors in this truly appropriate distinction of the day. The highest praise is due to the activity and judicious management of the benevolent individuals of each standing Committee, who had the immediate direction of the arrangements. Temporary tables were constructed round three sides of the rooms against the wall; table-cloths and all other proper appendages of the banquet were provided, and the rooms were decorated, agreeably to ancient usage, with evergreens, although, indeed, the soil does not yield the distinctive holly and mistletoe.—The young ladies and gentlemen who act as voluntary teachers in the Sunday School, much to their credit, undertook to officiate as carvers upon the occasion and serve out the portions to the children. Grace was said by one of the children in each School, and a hymn sung by them all, before their dismissal. The relics of the feast were distributed partly among the parents of the present children, and partly, among the prisoners at the Gaol.”

The sum of £41 14 11 has been expended during the past year, from the fund alluded to in the last report, in clothing poor children to enable them to attend School.

The Committee cannot dismiss this part of their Report, without saying a few words on the subject of the Sunday school. Here also the improvement is manifest and striking, and the success of the Institution has more than answered the expectations of the Committee. The number of children on the list is Boys 112, Girls 80; and their attendance is, in general, regular and punctual. That this is mainly attributable to the active exertions of those young persons, who have undertaken the task of teachers in the School, no doubt can be entertained, and the circumstance is no less creditable to themselves, than it is gratifying to the Committee.

The Committee have the additional satisfaction of stating, that Sunday Schools, in connexion with the Establishment, are rapidly increasing throughout the Diocese. A Sunday School, upon the same plan as that at Quebec, has recently been ingrafted upon the National School at Montreal, and the Institution has already been productive of the best effects.

But the account of a Sunday School established in Trinity Church, in the Seigniorie of St. Armand, under the auspices of the Revd. J. Reid, a zealous Minister of the Establishment, which has already been adverted to in this Report, is of a nature so peculiarly gratifying, that the Committee cannot refrain from bringing it before the notice of their Members.

“ Our Sunday School in Trinity Church commenced on the 14th September, 1823. Since that time 95 scholars have been admitted, but the average of real punctual attendants is 54. The time is occupied, after commencing by prayer, in reading, spelling, reciting portions of scripture, and catechising. 46 of them can recite the Catechism. Since the commencement 982 Collects from the Book of Common Prayer, 1360 Barrow’s questions, 204 Chief Truths of the Christian Religion, and 26535 verses of the Scriptures have been recited. We have them all classed according to their progress, and a Teacher for every class, so that every moment is well occupied. The children themselves have, on every Sunday, contributed such half-pence as they could get, towards a small Sunday School Library, which has now amounted to £3 17 8, all which has been laid out in suitable Books, which have been supplied from the Repository at Quebec. They draw their Books regularly one Sunday, and return them on the next. The Books used in the Sunday School were all furnished by me, and these also were procured from the Repository. It requires a good deal of attention to keep them together, but, upon the whole, I have reason to be thankful that it has hitherto succeeded to my satisfaction, and is really doing good in many respects. It brings a great number of Children to Church ; brings them up in the use of the Common Prayer Book—keeps them from profaning the Lord's day in play—treasures up in their young minds a great store of Scripture truths, and religious knowledge, all which, through the blessing of God, it is to be hoped, will make of them good Christians and good Churchmen, as they advance in years. Some of the young Ladies and Gentlemen gratuitously devote their time as Instructors ; and to them I am under great obligations, as without their assistance I could do nothing.”—Extract from a Letter of Revd. J. Reid, April 14th, 1825.

The Committee, in short, entertain a confident expectation, that these humble, but highly useful, Institutions may become efficient pioneers, (if the expression be allowable,) not only for the more extensive diffusion of christian knowledge, but for promoting an increased attachment to the doctrines and ordinances of the Church of England ; and that the Inhabitants more especially of the Eastern Townships of the Province, having arrived, (as there is no cause to despair that they all ultimately will,) at some settled notions on the subject of Religion, may gradually be brought within the fold of the establishment, and the Church of God be built up, in all its beauty, in the desert places of the wilderness.

The Committee conclude with inviting the zealous co-operation of the friends of the Society, and the good wishes of all, for the furtherance of the work in which they are engaged. The duty of providing for the temporal wants of the poor, and supplying them with the "bread, which strengtheneth man's life," is universally felt and acknowledged; but that of ministering to their spiritual necessities—of placing within their reach, "that living bread, which came down from heaven, and nourisheth to life everlasting," is a sacred work of a higher order, and of much more solemn obligation. Religious knowledge, it is to be hoped, by the blessing of Him, "who alone giveth the increase," may issue in that, which alone can give it any value,—religious practice—in those "fruits of righteousness, which are by Jesus Christ to the Praise and Glory of God."

For this happy consummation of things let us all look, and all pray. Let us offer up our earnest petitions to the Supreme Disposer of all events, that he would be pleased, in his own good time, "to make his ways known," upon earth, and to manifest his "saving health unto all nations;" that "guided and governed by his good spirit, all those, who profess and call themselves Christians, may hold the faith in unity of spirit, in the bond of peace, and in righteousness of life;" and finally that the three great Societies at home, which,—under the protecting shelter of the venerable Church of England,—the purest and most primitive existing growth of Christianity,—are engaged in the glorious work of diffusing the blessings of a Christian Education and the knowledge of the Gospel,—as well as all other Societies, which have the Word of Truth for their guide, and the dissemination of Christ's Religion for their object, may be blest and prospered by the divine protection, 'till "the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea."

By desire of the Committee,

J. L. MILLS, D. D.

Secretary.
